

1J & 1K - Course Student Learning Outcome #1 Competencies:

- j. Employ patient teaching that reflects developmental stage, age, culture, spirituality, patient preferences, and level of health literacy for pediatric patients and patients with complex medical/surgical conditions.
- k. Evaluate effectiveness of patient teaching to pediatric and adult patients and families experiencing high-acuity medical/surgical interventions.

Tool: Patient Teaching Tool

Refer to your pathophysiology tool.

Plan teaching related to the needs identified on your concept map?.

What modifications will you need to make related to your teaching methods based on the patient's developmental stage, age, culture, preferences, and level of health literacy?

Teach your patient. Was your teaching effective? If so, how do you know? If no, how do you know and what will you do?

Grading Rubric for the Patient Teaching Tool

Performance Level	S	NI	U
Identifies teaching needs.	In depth explanation of patient's learning needs.	Explanation includes some but not all of patient's learning needs.	Brief explanation of patient's learning needs.
Explains modifications to teaching based on patient's developmental stage, age, culture, spirituality, patient preferences, and level of health literacy.	In depth explanation of necessary modifications to teaching based on patient's developmental stage, age, culture, spirituality, patient preferences, and level of health literacy.	Explanation includes some but not all necessary modifications to teaching based on patient's developmental stage, age, culture, spirituality, patient preferences, and level of health literacy.	Brief explanation of necessary modifications to teaching based on patient's developmental stage, age, culture, spirituality, patient preferences, and level of health literacy.
Evaluates effectiveness of teaching.	In depth explanation of effectiveness of teaching.	Explanation includes some but not all issues related to the effectiveness of teaching.	Brief explanation of the issues related to the effectiveness of teaching.