COLLEGE FOR KIDS NOW ACCEPTING REGISTRATION FOR POPULAR SUMMER PROGRAM

One of Merced College's most popular programs, College for Kids, is accepting registrations for the 2015 summer program starting April 1.

Arranged in three sessions, the classes and programs offered to area children include aquatics, arts, sports, cooking, math, science, language arts, and more.

College for Kids is designed for students going into the 4th through 8th grades. Parents are advised to check the descriptions of individual classes as some are geared for children as young as 2nd grade. Ages vary for the aquatics program and sports camps.

The first session begins on June 15. College for Kids enrichment classes are $60-$65 per class. Aquatics classes are $55 per class. Fees for individual sports camps vary. Registration covers all class and camp enrollment fees, but does not cover the cost of snacks, meals, or other related expenses.

Educational Employees Credit Union is joining Merced College's Community Services office to provide scholarships for local youth to enroll in this summer's College for Kids program. Donations to College for Kids are tax deductible through the Merced College Foundation by calling 209.381.6470. Scholarship applications are posted on the Community Services website and will be due by April 17.

For more information, call the Community Services Office at (209) 384-6224 or visit www.mercedcommunityservices.com.
