SEE SOMETHING. SAY SOMETHING. DO SOMETHING.

RED FILE

Message to our MC Faculty & Staff:

You may be the first person to notice a student in distress. As fellow members of the MC community, it is important that we act proactively and with compassion. By intervening, expressing concern, and following through, you may help save a student's academic career or even their life.

SEE SOMETHING.

MC faculty and staff are in a unique position to demonstrate compassion for MC students in distress.

Our students may feel alone, isolated, and even hopeless when faced with academic and life challenges. These feelings can easily disrupt academic performance and may lead to difficulties coping and other serious consequences.

You may be the first person to SEE SOMETHING distressing in your students since you have frequent and prolonged contact with them. Merced College requests that you act with compassion when assisting students.

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) permits communication about a student of concern in connection with a health and safety emergency. Observation of a student's conduct or statement made by a students are not FERPA protected.

SAY SOMETHING.

Students exhibiting troubling behaviors in your presence are likely having difficulties in various settings including the classroom, with roommates, with family, and even social settings. Trust your instincts and SAY SOMETHING if a student leaves you feeling worried, alarmed, or threatened!

DO SOMETHING.

Sometimes students cannot or will not turn to family or friends. DO SOMETHING! Your expression of concern may be a critical factor. The purpose of this document is to help you recognize symptoms of student distress and identify appropriate referrals to campus resources.

Refer students to an appropriate resource

If you are unsure how to proceed, contact your Dean/Manager immediately for further discussion and possible referral to Behavioral Intervention Team.

RESOURCES & TIPS:

BE PROACTIVE: Engage students early on, pay attention to signs of distress, and set limits on disruptive behavior.

BE DIRECT: Don't be afraid to ask students directly if they are under the influence of drugs or alcohol, feeling confused or having thoughts of harming themselves or others. Set limits on behaviors that are inappropriate.

LISTEN SENSITIVELY AND CAREFULLY: Use a non-confrontational approach and calm voice. Avoid threatening, humiliating, and intimidating responses.

SAFETY FIRST: The welfare of the MC community is the top priority when a student displays threatening or potentially violent behavior. Do not hesitate to call for help. Ensure your safety (and the safety of others) in the environment. If disruptive behavior persists, notify the students that disciplinary action may be taken. Ask the student to leave. When a student displays threatening or potentially violent behavior, call Campus Police or 911 immediately.

FOLLOW THROUGH: Direct the student to the physical location of the resource you identify that offers them the most appropriate form of support for the cause of their distress and provide them with written contact information.

CONSULTATION AND DOCUMENTATION: Always document your interactions with distressed students so that other colleagues at MC are aware of the situation and can do needed follow-up. Consult with your Area Dean or Managers so that open lines of communication are developed and maintained, and to promote the best possible outcome for all parties involved.

If you believe there is a safety risk, contact Campus Police (209) 381-6425 or Dial 911
